2.0	April 2026	R Dunnage (DPO)	Updated to reflect the School Attendance (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2024 which demand that admissions and attendance registers must now be retained for 6 years (up from 3 years).

Introduction

This Retention Schedule is based on the guidelines set out in the Institute of Records Management Society's Toolkit for schools 2024. It has been cross-checked with the Local Authority expectations and updated to reflect the legislation in place in April 2026 e.g. UK GDPR, Data Use Access Act 2025, the 2025 Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE).

Guidance

This document should be used with reference to the school's Information Management Policy.

Records can include electronic information; there is no requirement to retain duplicate records in electronic and paper format and doing so would not meet the data minimisation requirements of the UK GDPR.

Organisation and Storage

Staff are strongly recommended to create electronic filing systems (folders) which reflect the categories below in order to ensure efficient management of records on an ongoing basis and timely disposal as required.

Where information is held in third party systems e.g. SIMS/Arbor/Bromcom, there is no requirement to also hold a paper copy and the duplication of records is not considered good practice.

All records must be securely stored. Schools must risk assess those records held only in paper format, assessing the risks of loss of access, for example through fire or theft, in particular those records of a confidential nature, such as personnel records and consider appropriate back up.

Confidential waste disposal or crosscut shredders must be used for the secure disposal of records where required.

Review

This Schedule will be reviewed every 2 years as part of the bi-annual review of data protection policies and documents.

2.3.8	Sickness absence monitoring		Sickness records are categorised as sensitive data. There is a legal obligation under statutory sickness pay to keep records for sickness monitoring. Sickness records should be kept separate from accident records. It could be argued that where sickness pay is not paid then current year + 3 years is acceptable, whilst if sickness pay is made then it becomes a financial record and current year + 6 years applies. The actual retention may depend on the internal auditors. Most seem to accept current year + 3 years as being acceptable as this gives them, 'benefits' and Inland Revenue time to investigate if they need to	SECURE DISPOSAL	Yes

Disciplinary and Grievance Processes
Where schools are in any doubt as to which categories disciplinary records fall under, then HR or legal advice should be sought from the Local Authority.
	Basic file description	Statutory Provisions	Retention Period [Operational]	Action at end of the administrative life of the record	Personal Information
2.3.12	Records relating to any allegation of a child protection nature against a member of staff	KCSIE; Working together to safeguard children: A guide to inter-agency working to safe- guard and promote the welfare of children.	Until the person's normal retirement age or 10 years from the date of the allegation (whichever is the longer) then REVIEW. Note: allegations that are found to be malicious should be removed from personnel files. If found they are to be kept on the file and a copy provided to the person concerned UNLESS the member of staff is part of any case which falls under the terms of reference of IICSA. If this is the case then the file will need to be retained until IICSA enquiries are complete	SECURE DISPOSAL These records must be shredded	Yes
Note: The ACAS code of practice on disciplinary and grievance procedures recommends that the employee should be told how long a disciplinary warning will remain current. However, this does not mean that the data itself should be destroyed at the end of the set period. Any disciplinary proceedings data will be a record of an important event in the course of the employer's relationship with the employee. Should the same employee be accused of similar misconduct five years down the line, and them defend him- or herself by saying "I would never do something like that", reference to the earlier proceedings may show that the comment should not be given credence. Alternatively, if the employee were to be dismissed for some later offence and then claim at tribunal that he or she had "fifteen years of unblemished service", the record of the disciplinary proceedings would be effective evidence to counter this claim. Employers should, therefore, be careful not to confuse the expiry of a warning for disciplinary purposes with a requirement to destroy all reference to its existence in the personnel file. One danger is that the disciplinary procedure itself often gives the impression that, at the end of the effective period for the warning, the warning will be "removed from the file". This or similar wording should be changed to make it clear that, while the warning will not remain active in relation to future disciplinary matters, a record of what has occurred will be kept.
2.3.13	Disciplinary proceedings				Yes
